the shape of two boats with immense capacity for the consumption of fuel, but with none whatever for the stowage of cargo. They had four chimques each, and could accommodate two passengers to each chimney; and in order to make the passengers as warm as the chimnies, the quarter deck (below which the cabins were) was absolutely sunk. It was a difficult matter to walk along the deck without burning one's clothes. They were constructed by a pet builder, managed by a pet agent, and cost an enormous sum of money. The nevelty of officialdom and of the boilers too having worn off, and a few heavy calls having been made on the proprietory, the whole concern was wound up with the loss of lock, stock, and barrel, and we believe something besides: Then ogain there was the club which formad a bubby of the notorious Colonel Caine. The estimate was a given number of shares at $400 which money being paid up and received it was found that $600 pel share additional was required. And even then, after that sum had been received the establishment was in debt, and hobbled along potted, dirty, ill-managed, and indebted until its sale

And in fact it has been adopted as an exten by this community themselves that any joint stock company started by themselves must of necessity come to grief-assuredly for the reasons we have indicated and for none other. Thus it came to pass that a few onterprising Parsees and Scotchmen in Bombay, invento and achieved so many Banks in China. They had little money, but they had eyes in licads and seuse too. They saw a clear field before them with a lot of swell donkeys browsing on it, and they turned it to pretty found unequalled in Chiac.

The adage runs that even a worin, if driven to desperation will turn on its oppressors -- so in the case before us, the success of the numarous Joint Stock Banks which have been established here, eventuated in such an excitement in Bombay and London, that new Banks shade of colour. were "invented" with extraordinary rapidity. and consequently the business being overdons | and choice patterns, 25 to 50 cents per yard. and the ground overecoupied, the Hongkong wissacres began to collect their ideas, and to form a combination to grind some of their
